TEACHNZ SCHOLARSHIP GUIDE

The alley cats
saw the baker's shop.
Piz-a smells squeezed out from cracks in the walls . . .

so they scratched on the door with their alley cat paws.
Scratch, scratch, scratch went their alley cat claws!

There was such a commotion
and a hullabaloo
that the baker opened the door.

APPLYING

To apply for a scholarship you must complete the online application form available on the TeachNZ website.

You can apply for as many scholarships as you wish, but only accept one. Part time options are available. If you have previously completed Initial Teacher Education training and/or received a TeachNZ Scholarship, you are not eligible for any of the scholarships available.

There are three application rounds to ensure you have the greatest opportunity to apply - and reapply if you are unsuccessful. You must submit your application on or before the application round closing date. If you submit an eligible application, it will be assessed by an independent panel of education experts. You will be notified if your application has been successful or unsuccessful on the application round notification date. Depending on circumstances, the notification dates may be brought forward or extended. TeachNZ will contact you should this be the case.

Due to the demand of the Te Huawhiti Career Changer, Te Huarau and Kupe scholarships, there is an expectation that the third application round will only be open to applicants with mid-year enrolments starting their first year of study.

To find out which Initial Teacher Education courses are considered approved, please check the approved course lists later in this guide. If you believe you are enrolled on a course that should be considered approved for this scholarship, please contact a member of the TeachNZ team.

We appreciate that completing the application form can be a challenging task. We have a team on hand and more information across our website and later on in this guide, to make sure you hand in the strongest application you can.

The programme is inclusive and rewards outstanding applicants. Outstanding to TeachNZ goes beyond academic achievement. The programme recognises passion, leadership, good communication, lived experiences and also places value on Māori and Pacific cultural competencies and language skills.

The assessment panel evaluate each application against a number of criteria. They reflect on how applicants express their relationship and engagement skills, communication skills, leadership, motivations to teach and cultural capabilities. As well as judging an application on these merits, the assessment panel also consider how an application aligns with the aims of the scholarship programme.

OUR AIMS

The TeachNZ scholarship programme aligns to the Ministry of Education's goal of shaping an education system that delivers equitable and excellent outcomes for all.

The TeachNZ scholarship programme has three roles in contributing to equity and excellent outcomes:

1. It helps enable equitable access to teaching by reducing and minimizing the significant barriers that prevent some individuals in Aotearoa New Zealand from starting Initial Teacher Education.

2. It addresses equity by supporting people from communities historically underserved by the education system to start Initial Teacher Education and grow a workforce that is representative of learners.
3. It supports the system to deliver excellent outcomes by getting the right teachers in the right place at the right time. For example, scholarship criteria is weighted to address areas that are experiencing teacher supply challenges, such as:
 - › specific subjects e.g. Science, Technology, Maths, Te Reo Māori
 - › specific sectors e.g. Early Learning, Secondary, Māori Medium

To ensure these aims are adhered to, positive weightings and scorings are placed on the applications that support them. A number of scholarships may also be protected to guarantee they are awarded to applicants wishing to teach in the areas facing teacher supply challenges.

We are dedicated to supporting to the revitalization of Te Reo and rewarding our Māori and Pacific leaders of tomorrow.

Quality:

We don't expect you to have professional filming equipment, so using a phone or computer is fine, but please review your footage before sending to ensure sound and image quality are sufficient to get your message across. Avoid submitting anything too shaky, loud or inaudible. If you are struggling to get the quality you desire, ask a friend or family member to assist you with filming so you have more space to communicate and engage the viewer.

Content:

Content is crucial to your video submission, so make sure your message comes across clearly within the suggested time. Use real-world examples and evidence whenever possible, and avoid straying too much from the relevant topic. This is your chance to really stand out, so let your passion for teaching shine through by using creative approaches to filming. The selection panel need to see that you feel inspired by your teaching subjects. Please note, anything that exceeds the recommended time for your video will not be assessed, so practice ahead of time if you're worried about duration.

Presentation:

Please ensure your video is clear, concise and viewer friendly. Imagine you are in front of a class full of students. How would you speak to them and engage with them? Your effective communication skills should come across in your video submission. Also consider your environment and personal presentation when filming. How do you want to portray yourself to the viewer? Take some time to really think through your plan before filming, and spend time analysing the video afterwards before submitting the final product. This is your chance to make a strong and lasting impression – good luck!

The assessment panellists and TeachNZ can also award you a different scholarship to the one you initially applied for. You can be offered an 'alternative' scholarship if:

- » The assessment panellists believe you are a more suitable candidate for a different scholarship
- » There is a surplus of different scholarships remaining to be allocated.

SCHOLARSHIP AGREEMENT / TERMS AND CONDITIONS

By signing your Scholarship Agreement, you give your consent you will be awarded a TeachNZ Scholarship and will have to meet the terms and conditions of the Agreement you sign.

Under the Agreement, TeachNZ will pay Fees and an Allowance for each year you meet the requirements of your Scholarship. By accepting the Scholarship, you agree to complete your Study and work as a teacher after you have completed your teacher education qualification.

If you are not able to meet the terms and conditions of this Agreement you must repay all or part of the Scholarship.

Example Scholarship Agreement and Terms and Conditions can be found under each different scholarships page on the TeachNZ website.

If you do not wish to sign your scholarship agreement you can withdraw from and decline your scholarship offer.

BONDING

If you receive a TeachNZ Scholarship, to pay back public funding, you are required to teach in a New Zealand licensed ECE centre, state or state-integrated schools for a stipulated time after you graduate. This is what we call a 'bond period.' Typically, a bond period is two years for every year a scholarship is received. Career Changer recipients should be aware that they may be required to teach for six years to complete their bonding obligations.

If your application is successful we will send you the Terms and Conditions of the Scholarship Agreement, which will outline your bond period and further information.

If you feel you will not be able to complete your bonding period, or that the prospect of teaching for period of time you are required to is not something you would like to do, please do not accept a scholarship offer.
